

CODE OF CONDUCT

This Code of Conduct lists the behaviours that coaches, volunteers, judges, team members, staff, event hosts, and all other attendees are expected to adhere to while participating in Zone01 and WRO activities.

- Respect everyone. Treat everyone with courtesy and kindness. Encourage good work, acknowledge the contributions of others, and remember that competition and respect go hand-in-hand.
- Show good sportsmanship. Accept judges' and referees' decisions respectfully, even when you disagree. Congratulate other teams, celebrate their successes as well as your own, and do not boast at another team's expense, blame teammates for a result, or interfere with another team's robot, equipment, or preparation.
- Ensure the safety of all participants. Follow the Safety Requirements and Protocols at all times, and work to protect others when you see a risk or potential risk.
- Compete with integrity. The work you present is your team's own. Follow the challenge rules; coaches and mentors guide and teach, they do not build or program for the team.

Report any unsafe behaviour or violation of this code to a coach, an event organizer, or Zone01 leadership.

Individuals and teams who do not comply with the Code of Conduct may receive a warning, suspension from an event, or exclusion from other activities, at the discretion of the team/event leadership.

We ask that all safety concerns and non-medical incidents be reported to event organizers and to Zone01 at info@zone01.ca within 48 hours. Reporters may choose to remain anonymous; however, the more information provided, the better we can respond.

*Many teams also have their own Code of Conduct. Teams are encouraged to develop one that reflects their unique values and to review it together at the start of each season.
